If You Have Experienced a Sexual Assault

- 1. Go to a safe location as soon as you are able.
- 2. If you have been assaulted or raped, preserve physical evidence such as tissue and fluid samples, towels, sheets, clothing, etc. Avoid showering, bathing, urinating, etc., until you have been examined at your campus health center or hospital.
- 3. Seek immediate medical attention if you are injured, or believe you may have been exposed to an STI/STD or potential pregnancy.
- 4. Contact any of the following for confidential assistance:
 - a. Campus Victim Advocate
 - b. Campus Health Services
 - c. Mental Health Counselor
 - d. Sex Abuse Treatment Center
 - e. Domestic Violence Action Center
 - f. National Domestic Violence Hotline
- 5. Or, contact any of the following if you wish to make a formal report:
 - a. Title IX Coordinator
 - b. Campus Security

Your college's key contact information and other resources are listed in back of this brochure, or can be found at <http://www.hawaii.edu/titleIX>.

Note that campus officials may contact on-call staff from other departments when their offices are closed or they are otherwise unavailable to assist immediately.

If you are off-campus and experiencing an emergency situation, you can call local police by dialing 911. You may also call your local police department's non-emergency line.

6. Because evidence of a sexual assault can deteriorate quickly, you may choose to seek a medical exam as soon as possible. Evidence collection should be completed within 120 hours of an assault, but fluids, hair samples, and DNA can be collected for a long time thereafter. Even if you have washed, evidence can often be obtained. After 120 hours, it may still be helpful to have medical attention, even if you are not trying to obtain evidence of an assault. If you are still wearing any clothes worn during the assault, wear them to the hospital, but bring a change of clothes, as the hospital will keep the clothes you are wearing as evidence. If you have changed clothes, bring the ones you were wearing during the assault to the hospital in a clean paper (not plastic) bag or a wrapped in a clean sheet. Leave sheets/towels at the scene of the assault. Police will collect them. Typically, police will be called to the hospital to take custody of the rape kit, but it is up to you whether you wish to speak with them or file a criminal complaint.
7. Choose how to proceed. You have options, and are encouraged to contact a Confidential Office to discuss your options including:
 - 1) Do nothing until you are ready;
 - 2) Pursue resolution by the University; and/or
 - 3) Initiate criminal proceedings; and/or
 - 4) Initiate a civil process against the perpetrator.

You may pursue whatever combination of options is best for you. If you wish to have an incident investigated and resolved by the University, contact the Title IX coordinator. If you wish to have the incident handled criminally, contact Campus Security or local police where the assault occurred. A campus official is available to accompany students in making such reports, if desired. Contact the Title IX coordinator for more information.

To make informed choices, all parties should be aware of confidentiality and privacy issues, as well as institutional mandatory reporting requirements.

About Confidentiality

Confidential Reporting

If you wish that details of an incident be kept confidential, speak with a campus mental health counselor and/or health services providers or an advocate. Campus counselors are available to help on an emergency basis. Their service is free of charge. Members of the clergy, chaplains, and off-campus rape crisis center staff can also maintain confidentiality. Local resources such as crisis centers are also confidential and have no duty to report your information to the University.

In addition, the University has designated Confidential Offices where students can seek assistance in a confidential manner. Going to a Confidential Office will not put the University on notice of a specific allegation.

Please refer to the back of the brochure for your campus' Confidential Office locations and contacts.

Mandated Reporting

All University employees who are not designated as confidential, or "responsible employees" such as executive and managerial staff, are expected to report the details of which they are aware about an incident. They share this information with the Title IX coordinator. Giving a responsible employee notice of an incident constitutes official notice to the University. Incidents of sexual misconduct will be taken seriously when official notice is given. Incidents of sexual misconduct will be investigated and resolved in a prompt and equitable manner under the University resolution procedures, which are discussed in a later section of this brochure.

You may request confidentiality and/or that the Title IX coordinator provide you with remedies and resources without initiating a formal resolution process. The coordinator will weigh requests for confidentiality against the University's need to address and remedy discrimination under Title IX. Generally, the University will be able to respect your wishes, unless it believes there is a threat to the community based on the use of weapons, violence, pattern, predation, or threatening conduct by the person being accused.

In cases where your request for confidentiality is granted, the University will offer you available resources, supports, and remedies. You are not obligated to pursue formal resolution in order to access the resources that are available. If the University decides that it is obligated to pursue a formal resolution based on the notice you have given, you are not obligated to participate in the resolution process. However, the ability of the University to enforce its policies or provide some remedies may be limited if you do not participate.

Incidents Involving Minors

Please be aware that the University's duties with respect to minors (those under the age of 18) may require reporting sexual misconduct incidents to state agencies and/or local law enforcement. As a result, confidentiality cannot be guaranteed in sexual misconduct incidents involving minors.

Programs

Bystander Intervention

The University offers bystander intervention programming in an effort to ensure that each member of the campus community is invested in creating a safe campus environment for themselves and others. Program participants are instructed on safe options for preventing harm and intervening when a risk of sexual misconduct exists.

VAWA/Clery Training

Incoming students are provided with education and training on awareness and risk reduction of sexual violence, dating violence, domestic violence, stalking, and consent in compliance with the Violence Against Women Act and the Clery Act.

Ongoing Campaigns

Ongoing awareness and prevention campaigns are provided throughout the school year to students, faculty and staff.

Policy

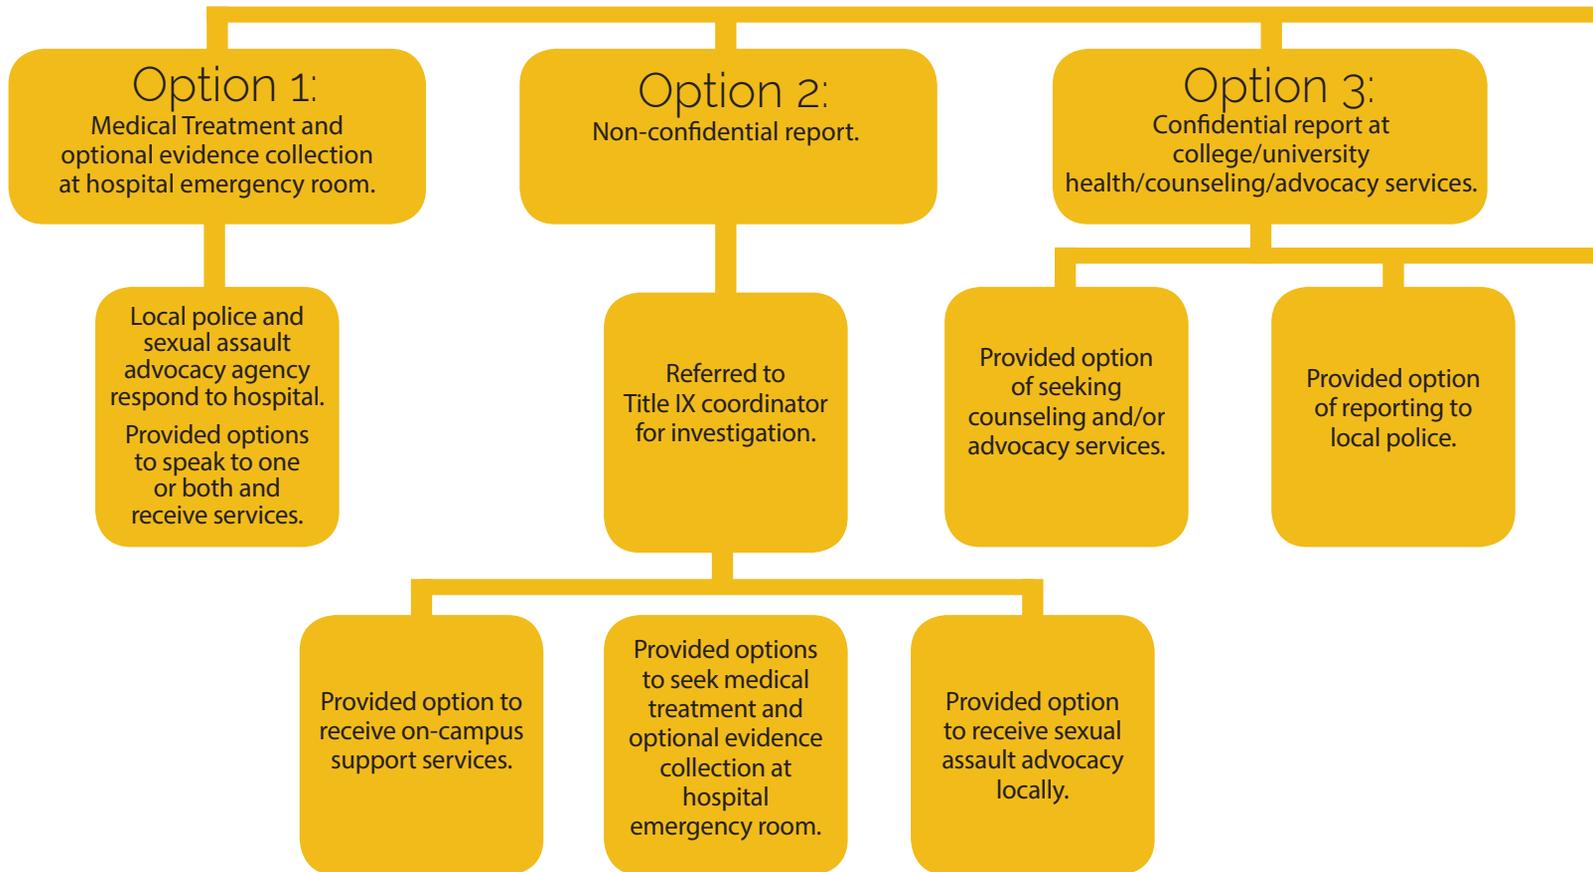

Sexual misconduct, including sexual harassment, sexual assault, sexual exploitation, domestic and dating violence, and stalking are violations of the University of Hawai'i's sexual misconduct policy, EP1.204. A number of federal laws and regulations, including Title IX, the Violence Against Women Act, and the Clery Act mandate how institutions respond to such allegations. Many types of sexual misconduct also constitute violations of Hawai'i law.

Members of the campus community, guests, and visitors have a right to be free from sexual misconduct. All members of the community must conduct themselves in a way that does not infringe upon the rights of others. The University's sexual misconduct policy is intended to define expectations for appropriate conduct and outline resolution processes to address conduct that does not meet these expectations. When individuals accused of sexual misconduct are found to be in violation of the policy, the University will impose serious sanctions, as noted on the next page.

All members of the campus community, guests and visitors are protected by EP1.204 regardless of their sexual orientation or gender identity. The University has jurisdiction over all acts of sexual misconduct involving members of the campus community, no matter where they occur, whether on- or off-campus. For more details on this policy, please visit the Office of Institutional Equity (OIE) webpage at www.hawaii.edu/titleix.

Additional information about campus crime, state laws, and disclosures related to sexual misconduct can be found in your campus Annual Security Report, posted on your college's website.

SURVIVOR

You may choose one or more options.
We encourage medical treatment for all options.

Option 4:
Report at local police department.

Provided options to seek medical treatment and optional evidence collection at hospital emergency room.

Local police and sexual assault advocacy agency respond to hospital.
Provided options to speak to one or both and receive services.

Provided option of reporting the incident to local sexual assault advocacy agency and/or college/university.

Option 5:
Confidential report through community sexual assault advocacy agency.

Provided option of working with college/university to receive on-campus accommodations.

Provided option of reporting to local police.

Please note that some services may vary by location.

FOR OPTION 2, please note that while communicating directly with the appropriate Title IX Coordinator or related Deputy is recommended, it is also possible to report to any Responsible Employee, who will communicate the report to the Title IX Coordinator.

Responsible Employees include all Executive and Managerial employees, and those individuals/departments designated as Reporting Options. This include, for example, the President, Vice Presidents, Associate Vice Presidents, Chancellors, Vice Chancellors, Associate and Assistant Vice Chancellors, Deans/Director, Associate and Assistant Deans/Directors, Human Resources Directors, Chief Personnel Officers, and the Chief of the Public Safety Office. In addition, pursuant to Act 208 of the 2016 Session Laws of Hawai'i, all members of the University's faculty are Responsible Employees effective July 1, 2016.

Responsible Employees will safeguard an individual's privacy, but are required by the University to immediately share all details about a complaint (including the known details of the incident (e.g., date, time, location), the names of the parties involved, a brief description of the incident and if the incident has been previously reported) with the Title IX Coordinator, or the EEO/AA Office, by telephone, electronically, or by email. Such reporting ensures timely support for all parties and enables an effective and consistent institutional response.

Conduct Violations: Sex Discrimination and Gender Violence

Sex Discrimination

Sex discrimination is:

- any unlawful distinction, preference or detriment based on sex or gender
- that is sufficiently serious to unreasonably interfere with educational access and/or employment.

Sexual/Gender-Based Harassment

Sexual/Gender-based harassment is:

- unwelcome
- sexual, sex-based and/or gender-based verbal, written, online, graphic and/or physical conduct; and
- where submission to or rejection of that conduct is a term or condition of employment or education, or
- where submission to or rejection of the conduct is used as a basis for decisions affecting employment or education, or
- or where such conduct creates a hostile environment.

Hostile Environment

A hostile environment is created when harassment is:

- severe or pervasive or persistent, and
- both subjectively and objectively offensive that it
- unreasonably interferes with an employee's work performance or student's academic performance, or creates an intimidating, hostile or offensive work or educational environment.

Sexual Exploitation

Sexual exploitation is:

- violating the sexual privacy of another, or
- taking unjust or abusive sexual advantage of another
- without Consent, and
- that behavior does not otherwise constitute Sexual Assault.

Sexual Assault

Sexual assault is:

- any sexual intercourse without consent or by coercion and/or force, or
- intentional sexual touching of an intimate body part without consent or by coercion and/or force.

Domestic Violence

Domestic violence is:

- physical, sexual, emotional, financial or psychological abuse, or
- threats of abuse,
- against another person who is a family or household member (e.g. current or former spouse/intimate partner).

Dating Violence

Dating violence is:

- physical, sexual, emotional, financial, or psychological abuse, or
- threats of abuse,
- against another person who is or has been in a romantic or intimate relationship with the alleged abuser.

Stalking

Stalking is:

- a course of conduct (two or more acts) of unwanted and harassing behavior,
- directed at a specific person, and
- that would cause a reasonable person to feel fear, or
- would be viewed by a reasonable person as hostile, intimidating or abusive.

 Sanctions for a sexual misconduct violations range from warning through expulsion/termination.*

Retaliation

Retaliation is:

- any adverse action,
- taken against a person participating in a protected activity

The University prohibits and will not tolerate retaliation. A retaliation complaint will be viewed as a separate offense—i.e., a person can be found responsible for retaliation even if not found responsible for the underlying reported sexual misconduct.

Consent

Consent is affirmative, conscious, and voluntary agreement to engage in agreed upon forms of sexual contact.

Since different people may experience the same interactions differently, each party is responsible for making sure that partners have provided ongoing, clear consent to engaging in any sexual activity or contact.

A person may withdraw consent at any time during sexual activity or contact through words or actions. If that happens, the other party must immediately cease the activity or contact. Pressuring another person into sexual activity can constitute coercion, which is also considered to be sexual misconduct.

Silence to some forms of sexual activity (e.g., kissing, fondling, etc.) should not be construed as consent for other kinds of sexual activities (e.g., intercourse).

Being or having been in a dating relationship with the other party does not mean that consent for sexual activity exists.

Previous consent to sexual activity does not imply consent to sexual activity in the future.

To legally give consent in Hawai'i, individuals must be at least 16 years old.¹

¹In Hawai'i, the age of consent is sixteen (16) generally, or the age of consent is between fourteen (14) and fifteen (15) when either the other person is less than (5) years older or when the other person is legally married to the person between the ages of fourteen (14) and fifteen (15). See Haw. Rev. Stat. § 707-732.

Incapacitation

Incapacitation is a mental or physical state in which individuals are unable to make rational, reasonable decisions because they lack the ability to understand the consequences of their actions.

Individuals cannot give sexual consent if they can't understand what is happening, or if they are disoriented, helpless, asleep, or unconscious for any reason. That applies even if it is because they voluntarily consumed alcohol or drugs. Unless consent is "knowing," it is not valid. Those engaging in sexual activity who know or should have known that the other party is incapacitated are engaging in sexual misconduct. The possession, use, distribution, and/or administration of any incapacitating substances is prohibited.

The fact that a responding party was intoxicated, and thus did not realize the reporting party was incapacitated, does not excuse sexual misconduct.

Your Rights

The University strives to provide members of the campus community with fair and equitable resolution processes that include both formal and informal options.

Reporting

- Reporting parties have the right to notify law enforcement of incidents and to receive assistance from campus personnel in doing so.
- Reporting parties may decline to report to law enforcement if they so wish.
- Reporting parties have the right to have their allegations investigated and resolved internally by the institution.

Fairness

- All members of the campus community have the right to have reported incidents addressed according to the published University procedures.
- All parties have equal opportunities to have a support person of their choosing or offered by the institution present throughout all resolution proceedings (including intake, interviews, hearings, etc.). This person can be an advisor, advocate, attorney, family member, friend, faculty member, etc.
- All parties have the right to written notice of the outcome of sexual misconduct resolution proceedings.
- Reporting parties, their supporters, and witnesses have a right to be free from retaliation

Support

- Students have a right to be notified of their ability to access mental health counseling, health, and advocacy services.
- Students and employees have a right to be notified of on- and off-campus support services.
- All parties involved in sexual misconduct allegations will receive the information and assistance needed to effectively participate in all proceedings.
- Reporting parties have the right to seek orders of protection, no-contact orders, restraining orders, or similar lawful orders issued by criminal, or civil courts, and may seek the help of Campus Security in requesting and/or enforcing.

Interim Measures/Actions

The University may take whatever steps are deemed necessary to appropriately respond to allegations of sexual misconduct, protect students' rights, and keep members of the campus community safe from further harm. Measures include, but are not limited to:

- Issuing interim suspensions/leaves pending the outcome of an investigation.
- Reporting incidents to local police and/or prosecutors.
- Referring to counseling and health services.
- Referring to the Employee Assistance Program.
- Providing education to the community.
- Altering work arrangements for employees.
- Providing campus escorts.
- Providing transportation assistance.
- Implementing limitations on contact between the parties.
- Offering adjustments to academic deadlines, course schedules, etc.

These measures are available regardless of whether a reporting party seeks formal resolution or makes a crime report.

Procedures

The University's procedures are detailed in full at www.hawaii.edu/titleix/policy.

Intake

A University official will assist the reporting party with making choices and accessing resources. Assuming the reporting party chooses to move forward with a campus resolution, the next step is a preliminary inquiry.

All resolutions will be conducted by campus officials who receive annual training on issues related to sexual harassment, domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking, and on how to conduct an investigation that protects the safety of victims, provides due process, and promotes accountability.

The resolution process is confidential. The institution will protect the confidentiality of victims, consistent with federal and state law. Title IX-related resolutions are not subject to publicly available record-keeping provisions. Any release of information about a resolution will be accomplished without the inclusion of identifying information about the victim, to the extent permissible by law.

Preliminary Inquiry

An initial determination is made about the allegations and whether to move them forward to a formal investigation. This decision is made by the Title IX coordinator taking into account the nature of the allegations and the reporting party's wishes. If the decision is made to move forward, the coordinator refers the allegations to investigators.

Investigations

An investigative model is used to resolve allegations. Trained investigators will provide an investigation that is prompt, thorough, reliable, equitable, fair, and impartial. They will interview reporting and responding parties and witnesses, and prepare reports with their findings. Information about all the steps in the investigative process is available at www.hawaii.edu/titleix/policy.

Decisions

A decision maker will be appointed to review the fact-finding report, render a decision, and impose sanctions as appropriate.

Standard of Evidence

The University uses a preponderance of evidence standard. Decision makers consider whether, given the available credible evidence, it is more likely than not that a violation occurred.

Past History

The past sexual history or character of an individual is not considered unless it is determined to be highly relevant. All such information sought to be entered for consideration by a party or the University will be presumed irrelevant until evidence of its relevance is offered. The existence of a pattern of behavior by a responding party may be relevant to the finding and sanction imposed.

Final Determination

The parties will be informed in writing of the outcome of the resolution, without significant delay between the notifications to each party. This notice will include the procedures for appealing the decision, any change to the results that occurs prior to the time that such results become final, and when results are considered to be final.

Appeals

All parties involved in sexual misconduct proceedings may appeal decisions on the basis of the grounds permitted by the University's policy. All parties are included in any appeal reconsideration and have equal rights of participation. There is only one level of appeal. That decision is final. See EP1.204 for further details.

Risk Reduction

Sexual misconduct and other forms of gender violence can affect anyone and is never the fault of the victim. Those who commit sexual misconduct are responsible for their actions. The University provides the following suggestions to increase awareness and reduce instances of sexual misconduct.

Awareness & Prevention for Intimate Partner Violence, Stalking, Sexual Harassment, and Sexual Violence

- Look out for your friends, and ask them to look out for you. Respect them and ask them to respect you, but be willing to challenge each other about high-risk choices.
- Alcohol and drugs can be used as a tool to gain control over an intoxicated person. Don't accept drinks from strangers and don't leave your drinks unattended.
- Don't take advantage of someone who may be under the influence of drugs or alcohol. Others' loss of control does not put you in control.
- Individuals have a right to set boundaries and limitations in their intimate experiences and relationships. Consent is required each and every time. If a potential partner says "no," accept it and don't push.

If you want a "yes," ask for it, and don't proceed without clear permission.

- Know the signs of isolating and controlling behavior. Healthy relationships consist of honesty, respect, trust, equality, and shared responsibility. Violence in a relationship is never deserved.
- Show your potential partner respect if you are in a position of initiating sexual behavior.
- Clearly communicate your intentions to your potential sexual partners. Make sure you understand their intentions and/or boundaries before you proceed. If you are unsure what's OK in any interaction, ask.
- Understand that consent to one type of sexual behavior does not automatically grant consent to other types of sexual behaviors. If you are unsure, stop and ask.
- Avoid ambiguity. Don't assume you have consent, whether someone is attracted to you, how far you can go with that person, or if the individual is physically and mentally able to consent. If you have questions or are unclear, you don't have consent.

- Someone's silence or passivity is not consent. Pay attention to verbal and non-verbal signals to avoid misreading intentions.
- Be on the lookout for mixed messages. That should be a clear indication to stop and talk about what your potential partner wants or doesn't want to happen. That person may be undecided about how far to go with you, or you may have misread a previous signal.
- Respect the timeline for sexual behaviors with which others are comfortable, and understand that they are entitled to change their minds.
- Even if you don't think you are intimidating in any way, your potential partner may be intimidated by or fearful of you, perhaps because of your sex, physical size, or a position of power or authority you may hold.
- Understand that exerting power and control over another through sex is unacceptable conduct.

It's always ok to ask for help. There are resources on campus and in the community that are there to assist you whether you are concerned about an incident that happened to you or a friend, the safety of your relationship, or your own choices and behaviors.

Support Services

University Mental Health Professionals

Mental Health Professionals can provide emotional support, as you process the many options available. Mental Health Professionals are considered confidential, meaning that assistance can be received without placing the University on notice of a specific incident. This is so you can receive needed assistance while still retaining control of your decision to report an incident to the University and/or law enforcement.

University Advocacy Support

The many resources available can sometimes be overwhelming. As such advocates can assist with navigating the many options available, helping to provide improved access to resources. Advocacy Offices are where individuals can seek information, options and specific support about their rights and resources under this Policy. Advocacy is often considered a confidential resource. Before revealing any information, please make sure you understand the reporting obligations of the person you are speaking to.

Community Resources

In addition to the resources available at the University, there are also local and national resources you may want to consider contacting. The resources listed are provided for informational purposes only. The University of Hawai'i does not endorse these entities, their products or services, and the information contained at these sites does not necessarily reflect the official views of the University.

Support Services

National Resources

National Sexual Assault Hotline

When you call, you'll be routed to a local RAINN affiliate organization based on the first six digits of your phone number. Cell phone callers have the option to enter the zip code of their current location to more accurately locate the nearest sexual assault service provider. The National Sexual Assault Hotline is a safe, confidential service. When you call the hotline, only the first six numbers of the phone number are used to route the call, and your complete phone number is never stored in the system. Most states do have laws that require local staff to contact authorities in certain situations, like if there is a child or vulnerable adult who is in danger.

Love is Respect

Peer advocates can connect you to resources in your area, provide you with helpful websites, help you create a plan to stay safe or just listen to your concerns. All conversations with peer advocates via phone, chat or text are free and confidential. You will never be asked for your name or other contact information, but an advocate may ask for your age and city to find local resources for you.

YWCA Sexual Assault Support Services

The YWCA of Hawai'i Island is dedicated to changing the beliefs that accompany sexual violence. They seek to create a society that does not minimize sexual crimes, that does not permit the shaming or silencing of the assaulted or hide the crime out of shame – a society where perpetrators are held accountable, mandated for treatment and prevented from offending again. Since the 1970s, they have provided response programs to victims of sexual assault known as Sexual Assault Support Services (SASS), Sexual Assault Response and Advocacy Services (SARAH) and Empowering Alternatives program (EAP).

YWCA Kaua'i Crisis Services Program

YWCA Kaua'i provides crisis workers 24 hours per day, every day of the year, to help people who have experienced domestic violence or sexual assault. Crisis workers can meet with you face-to-face or talk with you by telephone to provide support, information and advocacy. You will receive referrals to locations where you can get examined and treated, crisis counseling, emotional support and information on your legal rights. If you do need an examination or treatment, a crisis worker will meet with you to talk about the examination beforehand, stay with you during the examination, and help you talk to law enforcement, investigators, medical personnel, family members and anyone else you need.

University of Hawai'i Nondiscrimination Policy
Board of Regents Bylaws, Section 1-5 (April 21, 2011)

It is the policy of the University to provide equity of opportunity in higher education, both in the educational mission and as an employer. The University is committed to comply with all State and Federal statutes, rules, and regulations, which prohibit discrimination. The University is committed to a policy of nondiscrimination on the basis of race, sex, gender identity and expression, age, religion, color, national origin, ancestry, citizenship, disability, genetic information, marital status, breastfeeding, income, assignment for child support, arrest and court record (except as permissible under State law), sexual orientation, national guard absence, or status as a covered veteran.

This policy covers admission and access to, and participation, treatment and employment in the University's programs and activities. Discriminatory harassment including sexual harassment, is prohibited under this policy. The University shall promote a full realization of equal opportunity through a positive, continuing program of nondiscrimination and affirmative action (41 CFR Chapter 60) on each campus.
